MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIALS

All requests for game credentials should be directed in writing to Mrs. Adele Harris in the Cardinals' Public Relations office. All requests should be made at the earliest possible date since availability of seating in the main press box, and in some cases either press box, is determined by the promptness of the request.

Mail requests to Mrs. Harris at 200 Stadium Plaza, St. Louis, Mo. 63102.

WILL CALL WINDOW

The media will call window is located on the west side of Busch Stadium, on the second level, next to gate 4. The window opens one hour prior to kickoff.

POST-GAME LOCKERROOM POLICY

The Cardinals' lockerroom will be opened to accredited media seven to ten minutes following the conclusion of the game. Coach Jim Hanifan, his staff and players will be available at that time.

PRESS BOX PHONES

There are three direct-dial phones available to the media in the press box. Two are located in the first row of the main press box, in the visiting media area. A third is located in the work room off of the auxiliary press box. These phones have been installed for use by the media only. In addition, a pay phone is located on the second level of the main box.

CONFERENCE CALLS

The Cardinals' Public Relations department will conduct each week of the season a conference telephone call with a coach and/or player of the opposing team. The calls will take place in either the Stadium Club or the Cardinals' office, normally on Wednesday.

COACH HANIFAN PRESS CONFERENCE

On Tuesday morning of each week during the regular season Head Coach Jim Hanifan will hold a press conference in the Cardinal office, as his schedule permits.

CODE-A-PHONE

Taped interviews with Cardinal players and coaches, as well as other team notes, are available on a recorded code-a-phone system, with the number available upon request.

WILLIAM V. BIDWILL, PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

The Cardinal organization is one of only two charter members of the National Football League which was founded in Chicago in 1920. The Bidwill family has directed the fortunes of the Cardinals for 49 years of the club's lifetime, from the time Charles W. Bidwill, a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, purchased the team in 1932.

His son, William Bidwill, thus serves as the President and Chief Executive Officer of the oldest continuous professional football franchise in the nation. And in 1981, Bill Bidwill celebrates his tenth year fully in charge of the Football Cardinals. Bidwill has been an active participant in the day-to-day administration of the organization long before assuming sole control of the club in 1972. The Bidwill family moved the team from Chicago to St. Louis in 1960.

Bidwill began learning about professional football and the Cardinals as a youth when he served as a helper with the team. With the passing away of his father in 1947, his mother assumed control of the club for the next 15 years. At that time Bill, along with his brother, Charles W. Bidwill, Jr., began directing the franchise together as they would continue to do until 1972.

It was only two years after Bill Bidwill began his role as sole owner that the St. Louis Cardinals captured their first two divisional Championships, winning the NFC East back-to-back in 1974 and 1975. Since then the club has played before large crowds of loyal Big Red supporters and offered its fans competitive exciting football in the NFL.

In 1979 the organization underwent a change in structure, when it was transformed from a general partnership to a corporation, with Bidwill becoming President.

The Cardinal organization can trace its roots back to 1898, when it was known as the Morgan Athletic Club in Chicago. The team received its nickname from its founder, Chris O'Brien, when it began wearing faded maroon jerseys purchased from coach Amos Alanzo Stagg of the University of Chicago.

Bill Bidwill is one of St. Louis' active civic leaders and boosters of the city. He works with numerous charitable organizations and has maintained an interest in and association with the development of orthopedic surgery by helping in the raising of funds for research.

"This is the only home I have," says Bidwill. "I have raised my children here and I like this town better than any place I know. I'm a permanent resident here as much as anyone can be."

Bidwill is a graduate of Georgetown University and a veteran of the Navy.

JOE SULLIVAN, VICE-PRESIDENT, OPERATIONS

In front office matters of on-the-field nature, Joe Sullivan, the Football Cardinals' Vice-President of Operations, is in charge. Sullivan enters his ninth year in an executive position with the organization.

Administering the Big Red's personnel departments, handling contract negotiations, acquiring personnel through trades and waivers and coordinating the professional scouting services all come under Sullivan's responsibilities.

The Cardinals enjoyed their finest years in St. Louis immediately following Sullivan's arrival to the club in early 1973. His personnel acquisitions the following two seasons helped build the Big Red's NFC East divisional championship teams of 1974 and 1975 and a combined record of 21-7. The building continues to the present, with the club having enjoyed two of the league's better drafts in each of the past two seasons.

Building through the draft has become the Cardinals' philosophy in recent years. Analyzing the club's needs and evaluating its personnel has been a major contribution of Sullivan.

Joe celebrates his 25th year in professional football in 1981; a career which started in 1956 in the personnel department of the Green Bay Packers. Two years later, in 1958, he joined the personnel and game scouting staff of the Chicago Bears, where he remained for eight seasons. When George Allen, then a Bear assistant coach, was named head coach of the Los Angeles Rams in 1966, Sullivan was rewarded with a promotion to special assignment coach of the Rams under Allen.

The Rams enjoyed five of their best seasons under the direction of Sullivan and Allen, winning their first title of any kind in 1967 and posting an 11-1-2 record, the best season in the team's history at that point. Sullivan moved on to Washington in 1971 with Allen, where he held the executive level position of Assistant General Manager for the Redskins. Success again was part of his tenure as the Redskins participated in Super Bowl VII.

Two months later, in March of 1973, Sullivan came to St. Louis as the Cardinals' Director of Operations. When the organization became incorporated in 1979, he was given his present title.

"Building a football team has undergone many changes in recent years," says Sullivan. "With the advent of new personnel regulations and the league's new waiver system, you have to adapt your program to fit what you think is the best way to build the team."

Sullivan is a native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin and a veteran of the Marine Corps. He and his wife Joan live in Clayton, Mo.

BING DEVINE, VICE-PRESIDENT, ADMINISTRATION

Administering a sports organization, whether it be football, baseball or any other, on the professional level in a professional manner in a large community is a diversified task. Bing Devine contributes to the Football Cardinals his ability, experience and acumen of having done just that at every level for more than 40 years.

As the Vice-President, Administration, Devine coordinates the Cardinals' off-the-field administrative affairs. He is entering his third year with the club in 1981.

Perhaps best known for his career as a baseball executive, Devine built the foundations of four pennant-winning teams with the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Mets. He was voted the Major League Executive of the Year twice. He devoted 18 years as the Executive Vice-President and General Manager of the Cardinals over the course of two separate terms with the club; first from 1958 to 1964 and again from 1968 to 1978. In the interim, from 1965 through 1967, he served as the President and General Manager of the team. Prior to joining the Big Red he was in the front office of the San Francisco Giants.

Devine began his career in 1939 as a member of the Cardinals' publicity staff after playing baseball and basketball in college and as a semipro performer around St. Louis. In two years he was promoted to business manager of the farm club in Johnson City, Tenn., where he gained experience in every phase from selling advertising and tickets to maintaining the playing field on which he also played, at second base.

After serving in the Navy during World War II, he returned to St. Louis for one season (1948) before receiving a promotion to General Manager of the top farm club in Rochester, N.Y. He returned to the Major League level in 1955, serving as the assistant to Dick Meyer, the General Manager and Anheuser-Busch executive. Devine was placed in charge of the Cardinals, succeeding the late Frank Lane as GM, following the 1957 season.

"One thing you learn in this business, and it bears itself out time and again, is that winning, or being competitive effects every phase of your organization in a positive way," says Devine. "And the opposite holds true when you're not as competitive. You have to keep that in mind and always strive to do the best job possible both on and off the field."

A native of St. Louis and a graduate of Washington University, Bing and his wife have maintained a home in St. Louis County throughout his varied career. They have three daughters—Mrs. Joanne Schaumburg, Janice Devine and Mrs. Jane Pilkington—and four grandchildren.

LARRY WILSON, DIRECTOR OF PRO PERSONNEL

The Football Cardinals and Larry Wilson arrived in St. Louis at the same time. Wilson broke into professional football with the Big Red in 1960, the year the team moved to St. Louis from Chicago. Following a brilliant 13-year career which put him in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Wilson produces the same quality work as part of the front office.

Wilson joined the Cardinal staff following his retirement at the conclusion of the 1972 season. He is thus beginning his ninth year in the front office, and fifth as the club's Director of Pro Personnel. Acquiring talent through waivers, the draft, signing free agents, coordinating the Big Red's mini and training camps and handling other operational affairs come under Wilson's responsibilities. He began his front office career as the Director of Pro Scouting.

At the end of the 1979 season Wilson served as the team's interim head coach for the final three games, following the release of Bud Wilkinson. He posted two victories and one defeat.

During his playing career, Larry was voted All-Pro six times and played in eight Pro Bowls as a free safety. He set a total of 10 team records, including nearly every interception record. His 52 thefts are an all-time club record. He enjoyed his best season in 1966 when he led the NFL with 10 interceptions and tied a league record by intercepting a pass in seven consecutive games. His jersey number 8 has been retired by the club.

Wilson began his playing career as a seventh-round draft pick out of the University of Utah where he was a running back. He was switched to the defensive backfield his rookie year and when injuries cut into the veteran ranks, Wilson was given an opportunity at cornerback before settling in at free safety. Along with coach Chuck Drulis he innovated the safety blitz, a ploy requiring a reckless charge and a fierce tackler.

"The players and the game have changed somewhat since I played, but the ingredients for winning and the qualities of a good football player are still pretty much the same," says Wilson.

Larry, 43, and his wife Nancy live in St. Louis.

JIM HANIFAN

The Cardinals' first year under Head Coach Jim Hanifan in 1980 culminated in a paradox. A second successive 5-11 season produced a great deal of progress in the improvement process Hanifan had outlined as the team's road to contention. The record did not reveal the immutable mark Hanifan left with his team.

Not unlike his longtime headmaster in the coaching field, Don Coryell, who Hanifan left in San Diego to accept the Big Red position, Hanifan's first season as an NFL head coach was spent with a talented but struggling group of players in St. Louis. While improving on the team's overall talent, Hanifan's biggest concern and goal was building his type of team. From personnel changes to attitude and effort, Hanifan sought to remold the club into the playoff form he had helped build this team into in the mid-'70's.

It was in 1973 that Hanifan first joined the Big Red as an assistant under Coryell. Just as in Hanifan's first season, Coryell's Cardinal record (4-9-1) in '73 was identical to the preceding year, before the club rebounded to win the division in 1974 with 10 victories.

As the offensive line coach of that team, Hanifan took a latently talented group of players and turned them into the best offensive line in the league. His line set an NFL record by allowing the fewest quarterback sacks in a season (8) in 1975. He helped develop four members of that line into All-Pros; Dan Dierdorf, Tom Banks, Conrad Dobler and Bob Young. Starting in 1974, his linemen allowed the fewest sacks in the NFC for five consecutive years. In 1977 he was voted the NFL Assistant Coach of the Year.

In 1980 Hanifan made great strides in rebuilding the character of the Cardinals, as witnessed by their victory over Philadelphia and strong games against top clubs such as Atlanta, Los Angeles and Dallas.

Jim's first term with the Big Red ran through the 1978 season. He returned to San Diego to join Coryell as the assistant head coach in the city where the two men gained national attention for their great offensive teams at San Diego State. The offensive-minded Chargers won their division in 1979 with a 12-4 record. Under Hanifan's guidance they set an NFL record for most yards passing by a team in one season.

As always, Hanifan stresses proper attitude among the players, namely a potent mixture of pride and enthusiasm, and communication and teaching among his coaches.

"As a player, there's nothing like the innate feeling that you are a winner; that feeling of confidence that tells you you are going to come out on top," says Hanifan. "The only way you can acquire that feeling is by winning. Success breeds success. A big part of any coach's job is to create that feeling."

Hanifan began his coaching career at Charter Oak High in Covina, California. He moved up as an assistant at Yuba (Calif.) Junior College (1959-61) and at Glendale College for three years (1964-66) before joining the University of Utah staff as an offensive coach. He met and coached with Chuck Banker, the Cardinals' special teams coach, at Glendale and first worked with offensive line coach Tom Lovat while at Utah.

He remained at Utah for four years and spent two at his alma mater, the University of California, in charge of the passing game before going to San Diego State in 1972 as the offensive line coach.

As a collegiate player, Hanifan starred as an end at The University of California for three years (1952-54). He led the nation in receiving in his final year and earned All-Coast honors. He played at Toronto in the Canadian Football League in 1955 and played end for coach Coryell in the Army in 1956.

Hanifan is the 28th head coach in Cardinal history and the seventh since the team moved to St. Louis from Chicago in 1960.

He was born James Martin Michael Hanifan on September 21, 1933 in Compton, California. He and his wife Mariana live in St. Louis with their two children; Kathleen, 21, and James, 9.

BILL ATKINS—Defensive Backfield

Bill Atkins came to the Cardinals last year with an impressive background of developing top-flight secondaries. He was the first new assistant hired by the then new head coach Hanifan. He has brought a business-like attitude to the Big Red defensive backs, a style which once again brought him and his players success.

Atkins joined the club from the Detroit Lions, where he coached their defensive backs for two years. In both years, the Lions' secondary ranked among the top three in the NFC. He went to Detroit from San Francisco with head coach Monte Clark, with whom he worked at San Francisco in 1976 and 1977 as the 49er secondary coach. His coaching there helped develop a partly-young backfield while also helping to prolong the career of great defensive back Jimmy Johnson. Atkins began his coaching career with Buffalo in 1972. There he was responsible for turning a raw group of defenders into the AFC's top secondary, led by All-Pro Tony Greene and Robert James.

Following a dolorous season opener in 1980, Atkins' techniques gradually began to take their effect on the Big Red. Combining some shifting of personnel and implementation of his approach, the secondary solidified by mid-season and thereafter steadily improved. Cornerback Carl Allen, in fact, was voted the team's most improved player and became one of the NFC's toughest defenders over the second half of the year.

Atkins' playing career started in 1958 after he helped Auburn win the national championship in 1957. He was originally drafted by San Francisco, but moved on to Buffalo of the AFL in 1960. He led the league in interceptions and earned all-league honors that season. In 1963 he joined the New York Jets, then retired after playing the 1964 season with Denver.

Before beginning his professional coaching career, he served as the head coach and athletic director at Troy State in Alabama for six years.

An ardent jogger, the Millport, Ala. native was born on November 19, 1934. He and his wife Doris have two children; Paige (18) and Ace (9).

CHUCK BANKER—Special Teams

In his first year as an NFL coach, Chuck Banker enjoyed teaching and achieving what head coach Hanifan called the Cardinals' most consistent kicking game in a dozen years, reflecting part of his special teams responsibilities. The Big Red finished the 1980 season with one of the league's best kicking games, featuring two former free agents; punter Larry Swider and placekicker Neil O'Donoghue.

ATKINS*BANKER*BETTIS

Banker entered the NFL with the Cardinals on February 25, 1980 from Boise State. He was the linebacker coach and defensive coordinator there from 1976 to 1979, capping his stay with a season in which his defense led its conference in fewest points allowed during a 10-1 season.

Banker began his coaching career at Glendale Junior College in 1962, coaching alongside Jim Hanifan, the man who eventually brought him to the Cardinals. He remained at Glendale until 1966, moving to the University of Utah for two years where he again coached with Hanifan as the linebacker coach. From 1968 through 1970 he coached at Westminster College, including one year as the head man. He then returned to Utah in 1971, succeeding Jim Hanifan as an offensive coach. He also met and coached with new Big Red assistant Tom Lovat at Utah in 1972 before leaving for Viewmont High in Salt Lake City in 1974. Two years later he joined the Boise State staff.

The playing career of Banker was cut short by a knee injury in 1960 while playing linebacker and tight end for Pasadena City College.

Born on March 12, 1941 in Prescott, Arizona, Banker and his wife Karen have three children; Christy (8), Sara (6) and Bryan (3).

TOM BETTIS—Defensive Coordinator

Drawing up the schemes of the Big Red defense is the responsibility of Tom Bettis, along with the job of coaching the Cardinal linebackers. The improvements witnessed in the defensive line and secondary last year are evidence of the building job Bettis and his defensive coaches have produced.

This will be Bettis' fourth season in charge of the defense since coming to St. Louis in 1978. Before joining the Big Red he was the defensive backfield coach for the Kansas City Chiefs for 12 years, and served as the club's head coach for half of his final year.

Since coming to the Cardinals, Bettis has introduced the 3-4 defense, the system played each of the past three seasons in an effort to best utilize the personnel on the club.

While with Kansas City, Bettis' secondaries led the AFC in interceptions five consecutive years (1966-70) as well as in 1974. A mainstay of those secondaries was new Big Red coach Emmitt Thomas, whom Bettis converted from a receiver to an All-Pro cornerback. The Chiefs won one of the two Super Bowls in which they played during his stay, along with winning two AFC titles and making the playoffs two other seasons.

Tom began his NFL coaching career in 1966. Prior to that he was in private business after retiring as an active player in 1963, as a member of the world champion Chicago Bears. His playing career began as a number one draft choice of Green Bay in 1955. He was a starting linebacker with the Packers until 1961, helping them win a championship. In 1962 he was traded to Pittsburgh before joining Chicago in 1963.

Bettis was an All-American linebacker and offensive guard at Purdue in 1953 and 1954. He was named All-Big Ten both years as well as in 1952. He finished fourth in the Heisman Trophy voting his final year, and first among all linemen.

He served as a pro scout during 1964 and 1965 before entering the pro coaching ranks under Hank Stram.

Born March 17, 1933, Bettis and his wife Valerie have three daughters. The two oldest, Lisa (24) and Karen (22), were both married last summer, while Krista (17) will be a senior in high school.

BROWN

DON BROWN—Strength and Flexibility

Don Brown, the youngest member of the coaching staff, has been in charge of the Cardinals' conditioning program for the past three years. He has established and coordinated for the Big Red a program for stretching, agility, flexibility, strength and endurance since his arrival with the club in 1978.

He is the third successive strength and conditioning coach from Butler, Penn., to serve in this capacity. Brown studied under Paul Uram, one of the pioneers in the field who has worked for years in the same capacity with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Before joining the Cardinals, Brown was an assistant coach for Wake Forest while attending graduate school at his alma mater. During his undergraduate years he played outside linebacker and was voted the team's most valuable player in his senior season of 1972.

Brown, 30, holds a master's degree in Business Administration as well as a B.S. degree in mathematics and an M.A. in counseling. He is a graduate of Butler High in that Pennsylvania city.

Brown is single.

RUDY FELDMAN—Defensive Line

When the 1980 training camp opened, everyone knew that among the coaches, Rudy Feldman had the greatest quantity of young talent to coach after the Cardinals drafted five defensive linemen. The real and pleasant surprise came when Feldman turned the group into the highest quality of young talent on the team.

For most of the season, four of the six defensive linemen on the club were rookies—Curtis Greer, Rush Brown, Stafford Mays and Bill Acker—yet it became one of the strengths of the team thanks to Feldman.

Rudy enters his fourth year as the defensive line coach for the Big Red after joining the club from San Diego in 1978. He was the Chargers' defensive line coach for three years (1974-76) and in charge of the offensive line in 1977. He was brought to St. Louis by Bud Wilkinson, with whom he coached at the University of Oklahoma for five years (1958-62).

He began his coaching career in the college ranks as an assistant at Iowa State in 1957 before going to Oklahoma. He later joined the Colorado staff as the top assistant in 1963 and remained until 1968 when he became the head coach at New Mexico. He held that position through 1973, at which time he entered the NFL with San Diego.

Feldman, 49, played offensive guard for UCLA from 1950 through 1953. In his final season he was the captain of the team which finished 8-1 and played Michigan State in the 1954 Rose Bowl.

The San Francisco native was born May 18, 1932. He and his wife Joanne have two sons, Kirk (23) and Kent (20) and one daughter, Lisa (16).

HARRY GILMER—Quarterbacks

Under the tutelage of Harry Gilmer, Jim Hart, Mel Gray and now Pat Tilley have all reached the Pro Bowl. In 1981 Gilmer will devote all his energy to coaching the quarterbacks, while Emmitt Thomas assumes the duties of working with the receivers.

Gilmer has coached Hart, the NFL's leading active passer, for two-thirds of the quarterback's career. In the wings he has three youngsters with good potential; Rusty Lisch, Mike Loyd and rookie Neil Lomax.

In 1981 Gilmer starts his 24th year of coaching in the NFL and 10th with the Cardinals. The Big Red passing game, for years its offensive lifeline, has been built into one of the league's best for many years under Gilmer, who helps call plays during games from the press box.

Harry first joined the club in 1967 for four years. After coaching with Atlanta from 1970 through 1974, he returned to and has remained in St. Louis since 1975.

He began his professional coaching career with Pittsburgh in 1957 as the Steelers' backfield coach. A year later he became a defensive coach, a position he held for three seasons (1958-60). He joined Minnesota as a defensive coach for the next four years (1961-64) before being named head coach of the Detroit Lions in 1965. In two seasons he compiled a 10-16-2 record.

Gilmer, 55, was an outstanding college and professional quarterback. He was an All-American at Alabama in 1945 and was the first player taken in the 1948 draft by Washington. He was All-Pro in 1950 and 1952. He retired as a player in 1956.

The easy-going Southerner is the most experienced coach on the staff. Born April 14, 1926 in Birmingham, Ala., Gilmer and his wife Katherine have a son, three daughters and four grandchildren.

DICK JAMIESON—Offensive Backfield

In his first year as an NFL coach, Dick Jamieson had the luxury of inheriting a backfield with one of the games premier backs, Otis Anderson. While Anderson enjoyed his second highly successful season as a pro, it was Jamieson's improvement of the remaining backs which helped most.

Jamieson joined the Cardinals in February of 1980 off the campus of Indiana State, where he had served as the head coach for two years (1978-79). In that span he turned a 3-8 record into an 8-3 season.

He had earned a good reputation as an offensive coach and had become familiar with the Cardinals while serving as the offensive coordinator at the University of Missouri from 1972 through 1977. Prior to joining the college ranks, he coached high school football for six years, compiling a 40-19-1 record at Peoria Central High.

As a football player at Bradley, Jamieson led the nation's small colleges in total offense as a quarterback. A great athlete, Jamieson then signed a pro baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates before returning to football in 1959 with Baltimore as a backup to Johnny Unitas. He joined the New York Titans of the AFL in 1960. A back injury forced him to temporarily retire, so he returned to Bradley as a coach for three years (1962-64).

Jamieson made a comeback in 1965, signing with the Houston Oilers as a backup to yet another great quarterback. George Blanda. He retired permanently in 1966.

A native of Peoria, Ill., Jamieson was born on November 13, 1937. He and his wife Rosalie have three children; Jeff (23), Tim (21) and Judy (17).

TOM LOVAT—Offensive Line

The Cardinals' new offensive line coach, Tom Lovat, begins his first season with the club and his second in the NFL. He served as the assistant offensive line coach with the Green Bay Packers in 1980, working with former Big Red tackle Ernie McMillan.

Lovat was recommended for his first NFL coaching job by Jim Hanifan, who coached with Lovat at the University of Utah in 1967. Special teams coach Chuck Banker was also a member of that staff at Utah.

Tom joined the Packers from Stanford University, where he was the offensive line coach from 1977 through 1979. Prior to that he coached his second stint at Utah, beginning in 1972 as the defensive line coach. He was named head coach in 1974, a position he held for three seasons before going to Stanford.

In 1971 Lovat was a defensive coach for Saskatchewan of the Canadian Football League. From 1968 through 1970 he served on the staff at Idaho State, following his first coaching job at Utah in 1967.

After graduating from the University of Utah in 1961, Lovat coached high school football for six years. While an undergraduate at Utah he played basketball and football.

Lovat was born on December 28, 1938 in Bingham, Utah. He and his wife Lyn have three children; Johna (17), Mathew (14) and Mark (11).

LEON McLAUGHLIN—Special Assistant

The coaching staff's man behind the scene is Leon McLaughlin. He is entering his fourth season with the Cardinals with the responsibilities of scouting the Big Red opponents, computerizing team tendencies and breaking down opponents on film for the coaching staff.

He has been in the coaching and scouting profession for more than 20 years. His professional background began with Pittsburgh in 1966. After three years with the Steelers,

ASSISTANT COACHES

McLaughlin was named the head coach at San Fernando State University in 1969. He remained there through 1971 before becoming an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams, the team he played for in the NFL.

In 1973 he joined the staff at Detroit, coaching the offensive line for two seasons. He moved on to Green Bay and Bart Starr's staff in 1975 for two more years before going to New England in 1977.

Leon's collegiate coaching career began at Washington State in 1956 as an assistant. He coached high school football in 1957 and 1958; then transferred to Stanford for seven years (1959-1965).

Born May 30, 1925, McLaughlin and his wife Jackie have three sons and a daughter.

EMMITT THOMAS— Receivers

The Cardinal passing game will be benefited in 1980 by the addition of Emmitt Thomas to the coaching staff as the receivers coach. The former standout cornerback for 13 years in the NFL was added to the staff in a newly-created position by Jim Hanifan.

Thomas will coordinate the Big Red passing attack with Harry Gilmer, the quarterback coach who handled both duties in the past.

This will be Thomas' first season as a coach in the NFL. Previously he had been the defensive backfield coach at Central Missouri State University since his retirement as a player in 1978.

Thomas began his pro career as a free agent wide receiver with Kansas City in 1966 out of Bishop College. He was converted to a cornerback by Big Red defensive coordinator Tom Bettis, then the defensive backfield coach of the Chiefs. Thomas went on to set the all-time Kansas City interception record with 58 in his career. He led the Chiefs in thefts five times and was one of only seven players in NFL history to lead the entire league in interceptions twice in a career (1969 and 1974).

He played in four Pro Bowls and two Super Bowls with Kansas City, intercepting a pass in the Chiefs' victory over Minnesota in Super Bowl IV.

Hanifan and Thomas view the former cornerback's knowledge of receivers' and defenders' techniques as a great help in his ability to coach the receivers.

Thomas was born on June 3, 1943. He and his wife Dianne have two children; Derek (14) and Dedra (8).

BOONE

GEORGE BOONE, Director of Player Personnel

George Boone heads the Cardinals' full-time, year-round collegiate scouting and drafting operations for the ninth year.

The director of a five-man staff in charge of scouting and selecting the Big Red's draft picks each spring, Boone has been with the club since 1968 when he was hired as the assistant personnel director. He was elevated to Director of Player Personnel in 1973.

In addition to coordinating and overseeing the club's scouting procedures, Boone also manages the Cardinals' participation with the United Scouting Combine, a personnel organization utilized by numerous NFL teams in pooling scouting reports.

Boone began his NFL personnel career in 1966 as a scout with the Central-Eastern Professional Organization (CEPO), a scouting combine also used by NFL teams.

George, 41, is a native of Louisville, Kentucky and an alumnus of the University of Kentucky. As a college player there he was a three-year starter at offensive and defensive tackle from 1957 to 1959. Following graduation, he served as an assistant football coach from 1960 to 1965. He holds a Bachelor's and Master's degree in education from Kentucky.

He and his wife Dedee have four daughters and a son.

BO BOLINGER, Scout

Bo Bolinger enters his second decade with the Cardinals as a scout, having joined the staff in early 1971. His eleventh year as a club scout ranks him second in longevity on the staff.

Prior to joining the Big Red, Bolinger coached on the collegiate level for 11 years and spent two seasons as the offensive line coach for the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Oklahoma in 1955, following his playing days there. After a stop on the high school level, he held the position of offensive and defensive line coach at Denver University from 1958 to 1960. For the next two years (1961-62) he was the defensive coordinator at Tulsa. He was the offensive and defensive coordinator at New Mexico (1963-67) and defensive coordinator for Utah State (1968) before entering the Canadian league.

As a player at Oklahoma, Bolinger was an All-American in 1955 and two-time all-conference guard.

Bo, 48, and his wife Barbara reside in Tempe, Arizona.

PLAYER PERSONNEL

MATT LAIR, Scout

Matt Lair also traces his roots to the University of Kentucky and came to the Cardinals from the Central-Eastern Professional Organization. He begins his eighth season as a scout for the club, having joined the Big Red in 1974.

With nearly 30 years of football coaching and scouting experience, Lair joined the Cardinals after working at CEPO for six years (1968-1973). Prior to that he spent 15 years as an assistant coach in the college ranks with Kentucky, Texas A&M and Texas Tech.

As an undergraduate he played linebacker and guard at Kentucky, which he attended from 1941 to 1942 and again in 1946 and 1947.

Born in Paris, Kentucky, Lair, 55, and his wife Helen now live in Danville, Ky.

ACE PARKER, Scout

A member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Clarence "Ace" Parker begins his sixth year with the Big Red. Parker, 66, played in both the NFL and the National Baseball League. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1972.

Called one of the last of the great triple-threat stars in professional football, Parker was an all purpose offensive and defensive back with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1937-41, the Boston Yanks in 1945 and the New York Yankees of the All-America Football Conference in 1946.

As a member of the 1939 Brooklyn Dodgers, Parker played in the first televised professional football game ever, on Oct. 22 vs. Philadelphia. Parker threw a touchdown pass in the 23-14 victory.

Parker is a member of five Halls of Fame including Duke University, North Carolina, Virginia and the National Collegiate Athletic Association Hall of Fame along with the NFL honors. He had been an All-American tailback at Duke in 1936 and was the Brooklyn Dodgers' first draft choice in 1937. Because he had signed a baseball contract with the Philadelphia Athletics, he didn't report to the Dodgers until midway into the football season. In his first full season in 1938, he gained all-NFL honors, decided to stay in football and turned down a baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates. He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1940 before a service call interrupted his career in 1941. He returned to the game for the 1945 and 1946 seasons to complete career totals of 498 rushing yards and 14 TDs on 148 attempts and 335 completions in 718 passing attempts for 4701 yards and 30 TDs.

He and his wife Thelma live in his native town of Portsmouth, Va.

STAN WEST, Scout

Stan West, the first full-time scout hired for the Cardinals, begins his 17th year with the club in that capacity. He was employed in 1965 after serving as an assistant coach with Minnesota.

During his college career at the University of Oklahoma, West was an All-American line-man in 1949 and was Los Angeles' first draft choice in 1950. He was named to the Pro Bowl in only his second season with the Rams as a member of the 1951 L.A. squad which defeated Cleveland for the world championship. He made a return trip to the Pro Bowl in 1952. After five years as a starter at linebacker for the Rams, he played for the New York Giants in 1955 and the Chicago Cardinals in 1956-57. After three seasons as an assistant coach of the Minnesota Vikings (1961-63), West stayed out of football for a year, but returned in 1965 to join the Cardinal staff.

A Norman, Okla., resident, he and his wife, Mary Frances, have two sons—Tom, 27 and Ted, 23.

SIMMONS

JOHN OMOHUNDRO, Head Trainer

The 1981 season marks the beginning of the second decade for the Football Cardinals' Head Trainer, John Omohundro. In this his 11th year in charge of the players' health and treatment, "Omo", as he is known around the training room, has served the Big Red a total of 14 years, the first four as the assistant trainer.

Omohundro earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from the University of Wyoming, in addition to 26 hours of graduate work. He began his career of treating athletes in 1961 at the College of Southern Utah, where he served as the head trainer. In 1962 he joined the University of Wyoming staff as a student assistant trainer and remained there through 1967. When he left he was a graduate assistant trainer. He joined the Cardinals' staff in 1967 at the age of 24.

John, 38, is a native of Salt Lake City, Utah. He received a special service award from the St. Louis Quarterback Club in 1978 as a tribute to his dedication to the team. He and his wife Martha have two sons; Johnny, 7, and Jimmy 5; and are expecting an addition to the family this summer.

JIM SHEARER, Assistant Trainer

Also with his roots traced to the Wyoming high country, Jim Shearer joins fellow alumnus Omohundro for his eighth season as the Football Cardinals' assistant trainer. Shearer also holds a bachelor's degree in physical education from the University of Wyoming in 1972.

He initiated his professional career that same year in Gillette, Wyoming as the city's assistant recreation director and the head trainer for Gillette High School, during 1972 and 1973. He then returned to the University of Wyoming to do graduate work and serve as a graduate assistant trainer in 1973 and '74. Later that year he joined the Big Red staff.

Jim is a native of Worland, Wyoming. He and his wife Nelma have one son, Christopher, 4, and are also expecting another child this summer.

BILL SIMMONS, Equipment Manager

Everything a player or coach wears during a practice or game, from shoe laces to shoulder pads, is organized, distributed, maintained and accounted for by one man, Bill Simmons.

Beginning his 16th year with the club, the same tenure as quarterback Jim Hart, Simmons has kept pace with the increasing amount, complexity and quality of equipment the Cardinals use during the season since his first days on the job in 1966. Prior to joining the club, Simmons taught school at Ferguson Junior High in St. Louis. At the same time he coached and officiated high school sports for 18 years.

Bill, 56, is a veteran of both World War II and the Korean War. Between stints in the service Simmons earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Northeast Missouri State University.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Bill and his wife Katie have five children and three grandchildren. Their eldest son, Dan, is following in his father's footsteps, as he begins his ninth year as the equipment manager of the New Orleans Saints.

JOE BOSTIC 71

Guard

Clemson

3rd Year

Ht: 6-3

Wt: 265

Born: 4/20/57

How Acquired: Third-round draft choice in 1979.

1980 SEASON: For the second time in as many years he stepped in to fill a big hole in the offensive line and did a superb job . . . Began the season as the starter at left guard and played there the first six games . . . Did not start and missed most of the game at Washington with a foot injury and returned the following week at right guard to enable Barney Cotton, who had replaced him, to remain on the left side . . . In 1980 Bostic started 15 games (the final nine at right guard) . . . Was named the offensive star of the game by the coaches following the victory against the Giants Nov. 30 . . . Also received a game ball that week . . . In only his second year, became a mainstay in the line after injuries to three other starting linemen . . . Should be a starting guard in 1981 along with Terry Stieve . . . Could also play tackle as he did in 1979 . . . Games Played: 16.

PRO CAREER: Spent his rookie season filling the shoes of the team's best lineman, Dan Dierdorf, after a knee injury ended the season for the club's All-Pro tackle . . . Started 14 games at right tackle and played in all 16 . . . His first NFL starting assignment was against the champion Pittsburgh Steelers and did not allow a QB sack in the game . . . Developed quickly into a fine tackle despite having played guard all three years at Clemson . . . Received game ball for his play in victory over Houston . . . Was the only offensive lineman not to miss a game once he became a starter . . . The Cardinals' starting offensive line at the start of the season did not play one game together as an entire unit, so Bostic's progress was even more surprising as the club set a team record for yards rushing in a season . . . Was named to Football Digest NFL All-Rookie Team.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: All-American guard at Clemson by Football News . . . AP and UPI second team All-American . . . Honorable Mention by The Sporting News . . . Ht: 5-9

Born: 9/28/48

How Acquired: Sixth-round draft choice in 1971.

1980 SEASON: Reached several milestones during a fine season . . . With at least one reception in all 16 games, he ran his streak to 105 straight games, tying the second-longest streak in NFL history (Danny Abramowicz) . . . Now stands 22 games away from Harold Carmichael's league record streak, which was halted last season at 127 games . . . With 40 receptions for 709 yards last year, he surpassed the 6,000-yard plateau for his career, now having 6,300 yards receiving moving him into second place in club history . . . He led the team in yards per catch with 17.7 . . . With 320 career receptions, he has a 19.7 yards per catch career average, one of the highest in NFL history (Bob Hayes ranks fifth all-time with 20.0) . . . With three TD passes last year, moved into second place on the all-time club list with 43 . . . Best game was seven catches for 101 yards vs. Baltimore . . . Was on the receiving end of the Cardinals' longest pass play of the year; a 69-yard TD against Dallas . . . Started every game . . . His consecutive game receiving streak came closest to being snapped in Philadelphia Dec. 14 when he caught his only pass of the game on the last play . . . Caught a TD pass in each of two games vs. Dallas, giving him a career total of 14 against the Cowboys, the most he's scored against any team . . . Games Played: 16.

PRO CAREER: Series of leg injuries hampered him in 1979, limiting him to 25 receptions for 447 yards and one touchdown . . . Best game of year was four catches for 60 yards at Philadelphia . . . He started 13 games . . . Had his second best season the year before with 44 receptions for 871 yards . . . Best season was 1975 with 48 catches for 926 yards and 11 touchdowns . . . Has played in four Pro Bowls . . . His 320 career receptions leaves him eight shy of Sonny Randle and third place on the all-time club list . . . He ranks second in yards receiving to Jackie Smith's 7,918 . . . Of his 43 career scoring receptions, 27, or 63%, have covered more than 40 yards . . . His 10 TDs vs. the New York Giants ranks second to his 14 against the Cowboys for scoring against one team . . . His career totals against Dallas are 58 receptions for 1,209 yards . . . Best game vs. the Cowboys was seven catches for 107 yards on Sept. 24, 1978 . . . The shortest scoring pass of his career may be his most famous—the TD against Washington in 1975 which tied the game in the closing seconds, sending it into overtime, when the Big Red won it and made the playoffs . . . Voted team MVP in 1977 and Rookie of the Year in 1971 . . . Longest catch of his career is 80 yards, which he has done three times . . . Still can run a 4.55 40.

Punter

Pittsburgh

3rd Year

Ht: 6-2

Wt: 195

Born: 2/1/55

How Acquired: Claimed on waivers Sept. 2, 1980 from Detroit.

1980 SEASON: Joined the club the week of the season opener to handle the punting duties and had a fine year . . . Averaged 41.5 yards on a club-record 100 punts . . . His average ranked him fourth in the NFC . . . Had one punt blocked vs. New Orleans . . . Had a net punting average of 31.6, which was lowered by several long punt returns . . . Punted in every game . . . Along with a fellow free agent, placekicker Neil O'Donoghue, gave the club its most consistent kicking game in several years . . . Was given Special Teams Award by coaches for his kicking in victory over Detroit . . . Also received a game ball that day . . . Became expendable at Detroit when Tom Skladany returned from an injury that forced him to miss most of 1979 . . . Ironically, in the two head-to-head matchups vs. the Lions and Skladany in 1980, Swider outdistanced his opponent with a 45.6-yard average in the two games combined to Skladany's 44.1 . . . His longest punt of the year was a 66-yarder vs. Baltimore . . . Was given strong recommendation to be claimed by club by coach Bill Atkins who was with Detroit in 1979 . . . Games Played: 16.

PRO CAREER: Signed as a free agent by Detroit in July of 1979 . . . Took over the punting duties for the Lions when Skladany injured his back . . . Averaged an even 40 yards per punt . . . Ranked sixth in the NFC . . . Punted in all but the final two games of 1979, his first year . . . While he set a club record with the Cardinals by punting 100 times last year, he was used to it, having punted 88 times in '79, the second most in Lion history for one season . . . His longest punt was a 72-yarder, the fifth-longest in Detroit history . . . He had no previous NFL experience before 1979 . . . Originally drafted by Denver on the seventh round in 1977 . . . Released by Denver in Aug. of 1977 . . . Signed by Tampa Bay in June, 1978 but was released prior to the season . . . Then signed with the Lions in 1979.

1980 SEASON: Turned in the finest season of his career, one of the best in team history and in the NFL last year . . . Earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl with 68 receptions for 966 yards and six touchdowns . . . A groin injury in the 14th game kept him from playing in the Pro Bowl and also probably kept him from breaking the team record for receptions in a season, held by Bobby Joe Conrad with 73, since he did not play in the final two games of the season . . . He led the NFC in receiving for 10 weeks, and finished fifth in the conference and eighth in the league . . . Voted the Cardinals' Most Valuable Player for 1980 . . . Named to the UPI All-NFL second team; and All-NFL first team by Sports Illustrated . . . The groin injury in the first half of the Detroit game ended a string of 19 consecutive games in which he had caught at least three passes . . . He has caught at least one pass in his last 38 straight games, a streak which is still alive . . . Best game of the season was in Detroit, with 10 catches for 128 yards . . . Received a game ball after victory in New York Nov. 30 . . . His 966 yards put him over the 900-yard mark for the third successive season . . . Led the team in receiving, receiving yardage, and touchdowns receiving . . . His 42 points ranked fourth on the club . . . Caught at least five passes in nine of the 13 full games he played . . . Extremely consistent and dependable receiver who runs excellent patterns and has outstanding hands and concentration . . . Both his reception and yardage totals are career highs . . . 68 catches are the second most for one season in team history . . . Started all 14 games he played . . . His 60-yard TD catch at Dallas was the longest of his career . . . Was put on injured reserve during the final week of the season . . . Games Played: 14.

PRO CAREER: Has led the team in receiving in each of the last three years . . . In 1979 he caught 57 passes for 938 yards and six TDs . . . Caught seven passes, the most by any receiver in one game in '79, vs. Washington for 114 yards . . . Had six receptions in each of three other games . . . His 134 yards against Cincinnati (five catches) was the individual game high on the team for 1979 . . . Averaged 16.4 yards per catch, a career high . . . In 1978 he had 62 receptions for 900 yards and three TDs . . . He ranked fourth in the NFC and tied for fifth in the NFL in receiving . . . Caught seven passes in a game four times . . . Named Honorable Mention All-NFC by UPI . . . Received team Effort Award after the season . . . Was a starter in '79 and '78 . . . Played reserve role his first two years, although he caught 26 passes his rookie season and shared the team Rookie of the Year Award with Mike Dawson . . . Caught seven passes in 1977 . . . Led the club in punt return average that year with 8.5 yards per return, but had a 9.7-yard average in 1976 . . . For his career, he ranks fifth all-time on the club in receiving yardage (3,275) and sixth in receptions (219) after only five years . . . He has averaged 44 receptions a year in his career; 62 during the past three years . . . Has one career rushing attempt for 32 yards in 1978.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Excellent career at Louisiana Tech . . . As a senior, was fifth in NCAA in receiving with 5.3 catches a game; totals were 53 receptions for 926 yards and six TDs . . . Named All-Southland Conference twice, leading league in receiving both years . . . Born in Marshall, Texas . . . Still lives in Shreveport, La., where he attended Fair Park High . . . NEIL LOMAX

15 D-2 QB Ht: 6-3 Wt: 215 Portland St. Born: 2/17/59
Hometown: Lake Oswego, Ore

In slightly more than three seasons, he became the NCAA all-time passing and total offense leader for a career . . . Holds the same ranking for one season . . . Holds 90 NCAA Division I-AA records and at least eight NCAA all-division records . . . Is the only QB in college history to throw for more than 100 TD's (106) . . . First QB to ever throw more than four TD passes in a quarter when he threw seven in 1980 game vs. Delaware State . . . Operated as a roll-out passer in the Vikings' "run and shoot" offense using a double slot formation and one RB . . . Will have to learn to improve drop-back passing technique, but is believed to have all the natural physical attributes to do so and be an outstanding pro QB . . . Scouted as having extremely strong and durable arm, with a deft touch and quick release . . . Very strong physically all-around . . . During the final three seasons his interceptions decreased steadily from 22 to 16 to 12, while all of the following statistics increased steadily: attempts, completions, yards, percentage and total offense . . . Thus his best year was 1980 when he completed 63% of his passes (296 out of 473) for more than 4,000 yards and 37 TD's with only the 12 interceptions . . . Holds NCAA record for most completions in one game with 44 . . . Guided his team to all-time NCAA scoring record of 49.2 points per game . . . Threw TD pass every 15 attempts, and intercepted but once every 29 attempts . . . His boyhood idol was Roman Gabriel, now the head coach at Cal-Poly Pomona, a team which Portland St. defeated 93-7 in 1980 . . . Neil is the second QB from Portland St. to be drafted by the Cardinals; the first was Tom Von Dulm in 1971 . . . The Cardinals have one player on the roster from Portland St., Dave Stief who was a senior when Lomax was a freshman . . . Stief and Lomax started three games together in 1977, the final three of the season, when Stief caught five passes for 116 yards and one TD in a 63-9 victory and caught 10 passes for 182 yards and a TD in the final game . . . Lomax's second-round selection was the highest draft pick in school history (Von Dulm 12th, Stief 7th) . . . Started freshman year as the fifth-string QB; got first start in season's ninth game . . . In final game of freshman year completed 41 of 59 passes for 469 yards and six TD's . . . Finished 7th in Heisman Trophy voting last year . . . Has been working on drop-back passing techniques the past two summers with Atlanta QB June Jones, a PSU alumnus, and Steve Bartkowski . . . Second QB drafted in '80 (behind Rich Campbell) and 33rd player overall.

Lomax NCAA Career Records, All-Divisions:

Most completions: 938

Most yards passing: 13,220 (old record: 7,818 by Jack Thompson)

Most yards total offense: 13,345

Most TD passes: 106 (old record: 93 by Doug Williams)

Most TD passing and running: 119

Most 400-yard passing games: 12

Most 300-yard passing games: 28

Most 200-yard passing games in a row: 28

It was when U.S. decided to boycott Olympics that he decided to try out for football . . . Held the world record for the 200-meters in 1979 with a time of 20.2 . . . Was two-time SEC sprint champion . . . His first reception was a 38-yard touchdown against Georgia Tech. . . . His 28.4 yards per catch led the Crimson Tide . . . "Considering he entered football very late, his progress was exceptional," said Paul "Bear" Bryant. "He has tremendous speed and is a fine athlete who works hard. You'll have to show some patience because he has to learn the technical side of football. But he's an eager student and has tremendous potential."

Big, fast tight end who just began to reach potential in senior year following nagging injuries in his first two seasons . . . Has good hands and gets deep with 4.7 speed . . . A knee injury in 1977 and a bruised knee cap in 1978 kept him out of considerable action . . . Bounced back in 1980 to make 23 receptions for 14.7 yards per catch and two touchdowns . . . Rated a strong blocker, which is what he was used for mostly until a new offense was installed last year . . . His brother is a Missouri state patrolman.

BIG RED GAMES AIRED ON KMOX RADIO

All 20 Football Cardinal preseason and regular season games will again be carried by KMOX Radio (CBS) in St. Louis. One of the most prominent stations in the nation covers the Big Red with a nationally-recognized broadcast team headed by Jack Buck.

Jack is entering his 27th year of sports broadcasting in St. Louis. He has become a national figure on radio and television, having broadcast the last four Super Bowls on CBS Radio as well as his weekly assignment of Monday Night Football for CBS. He has handled numerous other sporting events for CBS Radio and Television in addition to broadcasting St. Louis Cardinal baseball on KMOX Radio for more than 25 years.

Dan Kelly is one of the industry's most talented and versatile announcers. He broadcasts Football Cardinal games on Sunday in the fall in addition to University of Missouri action every Saturday. He celebrated his 25th year in broadcasting last year, many of them with the St. Louis Blues hockey club as perhaps the country's finest hockey announcer.

Bill Wilkerson, like Dan Kelly, doubles his football duties in the fall with both Big Red games and U. of Missouri broadcasts. His enthusiasm and knowledge of the game add excitement and insight to the broadcasts.

The Football Cardinal radio network numbers nearly 30 stations covering three states.

CARDINALS' 1981 TRAINING CAMP

THE LINDENWOOD COLLEGES / THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON
ST. CHARLES, MO. / SEATTLE, WASH.

The Big Red will be in their sixth season in 1981 on the campus of The Lindenwood Colleges in St. Charles, some 25 miles northwest of downtown St. Louis, in addition to spending a two-week portion of their training period on the west coast, in Seattle, Wash.

As a result of two scheduled preseason games on the west coast, with San Diego and Seattle, the club will make use of the athletic facilities at the University of Washington the week before and the week following the August 14 game in Seattle. They will train in Seattle August 9 to August 21, after spending approximately the first three weeks of camp in St. Charles.

Prior to conditioning at Lindenwood, the Cardinals trained for 13 years at Lake Forest (Ill.) College, in 1973-74 at Illinois State University and 1975 at Eastern Illinois.

The Lindenwood College is a school of approximately 1700 students set in picturesque surroundings and dedicated to presenting a varied sports program for the student body. Part of that phase of the operation is the athletic field which has been steadily improved to provide the Big Red with their present facilities.

Three years ago the field was surfaced with Superturf, a newly-developed artificial surface installed in the University of Michigan and Ohio State stadiums as well as its previous use at the Patriots' stadium in Foxboro, Mass.

While in training at this location the Big Red live in the Parker Hall dormitory overlooking the practice field and are served meals in the adjacent cafeteria. Living and office space for club officials is also located on campus, in Cobbs Hall and Parker Hall.

Bleachers border both sides of the practice field, serving fans who attend Cardinal practice sessions in the morning, afternoon or evening. Nearly all practices are open to the public.

Tape-recorded interviews and other camp information is made available to the media during training camp on the Cardinals' code-a-phone system. The number is 314-621-7833.

To reach Lindenwood from St. Louis city or county, take I-70 west past I-270 into St. Charles. Turn off on Highway 94 (second exit after crossing Missouri River) and go north. Go approximately one mile and just prior to reaching the campus turn left where parking is available adjacent to the stadium.

The club's address in Seattle will be: Athletic Dept., Graves Building, Seattle, Wash. 98105.

BUSCH MEMORIAL STADIUM

Media entering Busch Stadium for Football Cardinal games should enter through the advance ticket office doors on street level on the west side of the stadium. To get to the press box, take the elevator, located just inside the doors, to the fifth level.

The main football press box is located on the south side of the stadium behind the Cardinal bench. The auxiliary press box is on the fifth level, on the west side, adjacent to the elevator.

The press box lounge is located in the auxiliary box. Food and beverages are also served in the main box.

To reach the lockerrooms, take the elevator to the first level and turn right out of the elevator. To get to the visiting lockerroom, make a second right; to the home lockerroom, turn left.

CARDINAL HISTORY

A charter member of the National Football League, able to trace its ancestry to 1898, the Cardinals arrived in St. Louis in 1960.

Since then, the downtown area has entered a period of expansion, growth and progress featuring Busch Memorial Stadium, the 630-foot Gateway Arch and a new Convention Center.

Throughout the 21-year period the Cardinal teams have made steady progress with two NFC Eastern Division Championships, talented personnel and exciting football. Fan interest has constantly increased, too, from a season sale of 13,994 in old Busch Stadium to a record high of 42,233 in 1979 and 42,029 in 1981.

Founded by the late Chris O'Brien in 1898, the team began as a group gathered to play football on Chicago's south side. The team gained long-standing identification when O'Brien bought used jerseys from the University of Chicago with the famed Chicago maroon faded.

"That's not maroon, it's Cardinal red," said O'Brien—and the Cardinals it has been ever since.

The team grew in the Chicago area until finally, in 1920, it became one of eleven charter members of the American Professional Football League. The Cardinals won their first NFL title in 1925 when the league expanded to 20 teams.

A Chicago dentist, Dr. David Jones, bought the team in 1929. Then in 1932 the organization was acquired by Charles W. Bidwill, father of the present owner.

The team experienced some difficult years in the 1930's and early 1940's until in 1947 success was realized. Coached by Jim Conzelman and boasting a nucleus of the "dream backfield" of Paul Christman, Marshall Goldberg, Pat Harder and Charley Trippi, the Cardinals won the Western Division title, then downed the Philadelphia Eagles, 28-21, for the NFL championship.

Before having an opportunity to participate in the victory, Bidwill died in April, 1947, with ownership passing to his widow. Upon her death 15 years later, control moved to sons Charles W. Bidwill, Jr., and William V. Bidwill.

In 1972 Bill Bidwill and his family became the sole owner with Bill becoming managing general partner. On July 1, 1979, incorporation of the company was accomplished with Bidwill continuing as chief executive officer and becoming president in the new structure.

It was in 1974 after 14 years as the St. Louis representative with the Cardinals, under the direction of Coach Don Coryell, captured the NFC Eastern Division championship with a 10-4 mark only to lose their first playoff appearance since 1948, 30-14, to the Vikings.

Again 1975 brought a division title but another playoff loss, this time to the Rams, Dec. 27, in Los Angeles, 35-23.

Disappointingly the Big Red were close, but missed playoff berths in 1976 and 1977 after which a frustrated Coryell resigned. Perhaps even more surprising was the announcement March 2, 1978, that the new Big Red coach was the legendary Bud Wilkinson. He was returning to the football field this time at the professional level, some 15 years after his glory days at Oklahoma came to an end in 1963.

Before completing his second season, Wilkinson was released as head coach with three games remaining in 1979. Larry Wilson was named interim coach. Then on Jan. 30, 1980, Jim Hanifan, the great offensive assistant with the Cardinals under Coryell, was named head coach.

There have been many great football names linked with the Cardinals' history to date in St. Louis. Among the players who left indelible memories up to the present-day performers are Jim Bakken, Ernie McMillan, Jackie Smith, Larry Stallings and perhaps the most memorable of all, Larry Wilson.

Climaxing a 13-season playing career with the Cardinals and seven years in the front office, Wilson was selected to Pro Football's Hall of Fame in 1978. In emotional and impressive ceremonies, Larry was officially inducted as the 11th former Cardinal to gain entrance. The others are Ernie Nevers, Earl "Curly" Lambeau, Jim Conzelman, Paddy Driscoll, Guy Chamberlain, Walter Kiesling, Charles W. Bidwill, Charley Trippi, Ollie Matson, Dick "Night Train" Lane, and Jim Thorpe.

GAME 1 — Cardinals 35, New York Giants 41

Sept. 7 at St. Louis (49,122)—More than 400 yards in total offense and 35 points were not enough to win the season opener at home as the Giants pulled out a wildly offensive victory in Jim Hanifan's debut as the Big Red head coach. Giant quarterback Phil Simms threw five touchdown passes, four of them to Earnest Gray. For the day, Gray caught nine passes for 174 yards. Constantly playing catchup, Jim Hart threw for 322 yards and two TDs. Ottis Anderson rushed for 85 yards on only 12 carries, but the defense couldn't contain Simms.

GAME 2 — Cardinals 21, San Francisco 49ers 24 (OT)

Sept. 14 at San Francisco (49,999)—Paul Hofer's 26-yard run for a touchdown with 58 seconds remaining in regulation time sent the game into overtime for the 49ers. Ray Wersching then kicked a 33-yard field goal on the 49ers' first possession of OT to win the game, 24-21. The Cardinals had driven 75 yards to take a 21-14 lead in the fourth quarter, but allowed the 49ers to drive 80 yards in 53 seconds in the last two minutes. Jim Hart completed 28 passes but the ground game netted only 86 yards as Ottis Anderson left the game in the second half with a bruised shoulder. Doug Marsh caught seven passes, his season high.

GAME 3 — Cardinals 7, Detroit Lions 20

Sept. 21 at Detroit (80,027)—The Cardinals dropped their third straight game as the surprising Lions scored 10 fourth quarter points to put the game away. Playing with a severely bruised shoulder, Ottis Anderson was limited to 75 yards rushing and for the second week in a row the team was held under 100

Sept. 28 at St. Louis (49,079) — Carl Allen sparked the Big Red with a 70-yard interception return for a touchdown and Ottis Anderson bounced back with a 151-yard rushing day to pace the Cardinals to the victory over the eventual NFC champions. Anderson broke the game open in the fourth quarter with a 37-yard TD run on a broken play. The defense intercepted Ron Jaworski three times and punished Eagle running back Wilbert Montgomery. It was Jim Hanifan's first NFL victory as a head coach.

Oct. 5 at New Orleans (45,388) — The Cardinals set a team record for yards rushing (330) as both Ottis Anderson and Wayne Morris surpassed the 100-yard mark in the Big Red's best offensive show of the season. The defense also tied a club record for fewest net yards allowed in a game (80), limiting the Saints to three first downs. The Cardinals scored four touchdowns in the first four possessions of the game. Mel Gray caught a pass in his 94th consecutive game, tying Bobby Joe Conrad's club record.

GAME 6 — Cardinals 13, Los Angeles Rams 21

Oct. 12 at St. Louis (50,230) — The Rams' punishing ground game ended the Cardinals' win streak at two. Running for 244 yards and controlling the ball for 37 minutes, the Rams protected their 14-0 halftime lead. The Big Red rallied to within eight points, but a missed conversion dimmed their chances of tying the game in the final seven minutes. Mel Gray set a new club record by catching a pass in his 95th consecutive game.

Oct. 19 at Washington (51,060) — Feeling the effects of an emotional letdown following the disabling auto accident of Steve Little, the Cardinals played perhaps the poorest game of their season in Washington. With only two starters playing on the offensive line, Jim Hart was sacked six times. Pat Tilley continued his fine season with five receptions, but the Big Red could manage only 82 yards rushing.

Oct. 26 at Baltimore (33,506) — The Big Red defense tied an NFL record with 12 quarterback sacks, 4 1/2 of them registered by rookie defensive end Curtis Greer. Mel Gray and Pat Tilley combined for 13 receptions and 137 yards. A Baltimore touchdown with two seconds left made the score close. The outstanding play of the game was Tilley's spectacular one-handed touchdown catch to put St. Louis up 14-0. Neil O'Donoghue made his first field goal since being added to the roster.

GAME 9 — Cardinals 24, Dallas Cowboys 27

Nov. 2 at St. Louis (50,701)—A 28-yard desperation touchdown pass from Danny White to Tony Hill with :45 left in the game brought the Cardinals a crushing defeat. A 34-yard TD pass from Jim Hart to Mel Gray had given the Big Red a six-point lead, overcoming a lead the Cowboys built on a 78-yard interception return by Dennis Thurman of a deflected flare pass. The play, which started deep in Dallas territory with the Cardinals ahead by four points, would later be termed by Coach Hanifan as his most bitter memory of the season. Pat Tilley and O.J. Anderson had big days with 145 and 92 yards receiving and rushing respectively.

Atlanta took the OT kickoff and marched to the Big Red 21, from where Ray Strong ran it in. Ottis Anderson left the game in the first half, having carried the ball once. Jim Hart and Steve Bartkowski threw for a combined 755 yards. Pat Tilley caught six for St. Louis and Alfred Jenkins, Tilley's eventual replacement in the Pro Bowl, caught nine. GAME 15 — Cardinals 3, Philadelphia Eagles 17

Dec. 14 at Philadelphia (68,969) — Jim Hart played the first half with a painful cracked rib, but was unable to return for the second half. Having to pick up the slack, the defense held the Eagles to 10 points until Philadelphia scored a TD with less than a minute to play. The Cardinals' only points came on Neil O'Donoghue's FG, his sixth in a row, giving him a season total of 11-15 or 73 per cent.

GAME 16 — Cardinals 7, Washington Redskins 31

Dec. 21 at St. Louis (35,942) — Playing without Jim Hart, the Cardinal offense was ineffective all day as the Redskins rolled to victory in the finale. The Cardinals finished with -12 net yards passing for the day, having allowed nine sacks. Otis Anderson rushed for 122 yards, giving him 1,352 for the year. Mel Gray caught a pass in his 105th game in a row — tying the second longest string in NFL history.

ROSTER DESIGNATIONS

All Rookies in NFL rosters will carry the designation "R" under the heading of NFL experience. Rookies are players who have never attended an NFL training camp previously. Players with the "1" (one) designation are first-year players who have been at a training camp previously but did not play in a minimum of three regular-season games and thus did not qualify as a second-year player. Only players with the "R" designation are eligible for rookie honors.

INTRODUCTION

Although the National Football League was founded in 1920, official statistics and records were not recorded for many years, and some are more recent additions than others. Below is a history of when many of today's official statistical categories were initiated.

Scoring: Scores of all games are available starting in 1920, for purposes of records, however, totals date from 1932. Individual scoring statistics also date from 1932. Extra point and field goal attempts start in 1937.

Rushing: Statistics begin in 1932.

Passing: Statistics begin in 1932. Until 1947, what is now called "yards lost attempting to pass" was recorded in the rushing statistics. From 1947 to 1951, "yards lost attempting to pass" was recorded, but was not included in either the net rushing or the net passing yardage totals (and consequently was not a part of "total net yards gained"). Starting in 1952, passing yardage team totals include "yards lost attempting to pass," although sacks were not recorded before 1963. Lateral passes were maintained as a separate category until 1950, at which time yardage gained or lost as a result of lateral passes was included in the category initiating the action (e.g., rushing).

Pass Receiving: Statistics begin in 1932.

Interceptions By: Individual statistics begin in 1940, but individual touchdowns are available from 1932. Team totals for interceptions and touchdowns start in 1932, and team yardage totals start in 1940.

Punting: Complete seasonal statistics begin in 1939, although frequently during the period 1933-1938 individual and/or team punting totals are listed on official score blanks. Such game totals are included as official records, where applicable.

Punt Returns: Complete individual totals date from 1941, although team yardage figures date from 1936. Touchdowns are available since 1932.

Kickoff Returns: Complete individual totals date from 1941, although team yardage figures date from 1940. Touchdowns are available since 1932.

Fumbles: Individual totals start in 1945. Team totals for fumbles and for total fumbles recovered begin in 1935, and the breakdown of own and opponents' recoveries dates from 1938.

First Downs: Statistics begin in 1933, while the rushing—passing—by penalty breakdown commences in 1939 (although some games in 1937-1938 include this information).

Penalties: Yards penalized dates from 1936, penalties start in 1941.

NEW RULES IN 1981

Several rules changes will be put into effect for the 1981 NFL season. The changes were proposed and adopted at the owners' meetings in March. They include:

- The use of foreign substances such as stickum on a player's body or uniform has been banned.
- The rule defining a legal catch has been revised. Previously the rule stated a receiver had to have possession of the ball long enough to perform an act common to the game. Now, a player is ruled to have possession as long as he controls the ball while having both feet in bounds.
- Intentional grounding was revised. If a quarterback is judged to have intentionally grounded the ball, the defense now has the option of accepting the longstanding 10-yard penalty and loss of down, or it can now place the ball where the penalty occurred. Thus if a quarterback is called for grounding the ball 20 yards behind the line, it could result in a 20-yard loss instead of 10.
- If a player reports into the game wearing a jersey number illegal for the position he will play, he must report his position to the referee prior to each down, instead of only when he enters the game.
- The use of the chop block was banned for interior offensive linemen. In the past it had been banned for use by backs and receivers only.
- The penalty for blocking above the waist from behind was changed from a 15-yard penalty for clipping to a 10-yard foul for illegal use of hands.
- The advancing of a fumbled kick snap was changed so that any player may now recover and advance the fumble. In the past only the holder and kicker could do so.

1981 POST-SEASON GAME PRIORITY

On January 2-3, the NFC and AFC divisional playoff game matchups will be as follows: The two division winners with the best regular season won-lost percentage will be the home teams. The division winner with the best percentage will be host to the wild card team and the division winner with the second best percentage will be host to the third division winner.

If the wild card team is from the same division as the winner with the best percentage, the division winner with the best percentage will be host to the third division winner and the second highest division winner will be host to the wild card team.

For the NFC and AFC conference championships on January 10, 1982, the surviving division winners with the best regular season won-lost percentages will be the home teams.

FORMULA TO BREAK STANDINGS TIES FOR POST-SEASON PLAYOFFS

To break a tie within a division, these steps will be taken, in order: (1) Best won-lost percentage in head-to-head competition; (2) Best won-lost percentage in games within division; (3) Best won-lost percentage vs. conference opponents; (4) Best won-lost percentage vs. common opponents; (5) Best net points in division games; (6) Best net points in all games; (7) Strength of schedule; (8) Best net touchdowns in all games; (9) Coin toss.

In selecting the wild card teams, if there are two or more teams tied with the leading won-lost percentage, these steps will be taken; If there are more than two teams tied and two are from the same division, the division tie first will be broken. The surviving ties would then be broken under the following conference tie-breakers.

To break a tie within a conference, these steps will be taken, in order: (1) Best percentage in head-to-head competition. This is applicable in a three-way tie only if one club beat both others or one club lost to both others; (2) Best won-lost percentage against conference opponents; (3) Best won-lost percentage vs. common opponents; (4) Best net points in conference games; (5) Best net points in all games; (6) Strength of schedule; (7) Best net touchdowns in all games; (8) Coin toss.

ST. LOUIS PRO'S

The Big Red And The Blue Chip

There's a lot in common between these two teams of local professionals. Both are strong, determined and skillful in what they do. The Big Red sets the pace on the gridiron with their know-how and energy. The Blue Chip, using those same skills, has grown to be the largest savings and loan in the state of Missouri...with almost 2½ billion dollars in assets.

The Big Red and the Blue Chip...the proven pro's.
